POLICE INCIDENT REPORT Wednesday 10th March 2010.

Hard Selling Alarm Company

We have AGAIN received reports of an alarm company who are attempting to make appointments to visit people with a view to selling alarm systems. It appears that this company give misleading information about the charges involved and we have received several complaints. They also state that Essex Police endorse the use of their alarms. Essex Police CANNOT endorse the use of any commercial business, so this is untrue.

If you are interested in buying an alarm system for your property, please contact our Crime Prevention Officer, Peter Caulfield on 01376 556 233 for FREE advice on what you might actually need.

Many thanks,

Lindsay Baillie
